

In a Million Words or Less

Yes, this is an assignment! But it is an assignment for both parents/guardians and students.

I realize it takes a great deal of time to get to know your child. Some we never really get to know. This activity gives you the chance to tell me what you think I should know about your scholar. I will read every one of them. I will not share your comments with any other person, except other WAVE team teachers. If you do not wish me to share your comments with other WAVE team teachers, please indicate this to me in your message. Do not worry about spelling and punctuation. I only want to provide for you an opportunity to share what you know about your scholar's talents, struggles, hobbies, and life in general.

Take your time with this, but there must be a deadline. Please get "In a Million Words or Less" to me no later than Friday, August 27th. You can either send it with your scholar or email it to me at piercjef@usd437.net. Email has seemed to be the easiest way in the past couple years. I will respond to each email confirming I have received it.

So, in a million words or less, one paragraph to ten pages (which has happened - and I didn't mind), tell me about your scholar. You may write this alone or with your child. If you have any questions feel free to email or call me here at school. In appreciation for you completing this assignment, your child will receive a "Sand Dollar" point to be used towards an upcoming WAVE team reward party.

I look forward to getting to know your child,

Jeff Pierce
